Not only are there some great wineries and tasting rooms located near the train station, but Santa Barbara has fantastic places to eat and shop. A lot of these restaurants and shops are located on or just off State Street which is the main drag in Santa Barbara. So if feel the need to do something other than taste wine, just stroll up and down State Street and see what you find. A visit to Stearns Wharf should also be on the agenda to soak up the cool coastal air.

Please remember to be back at the train station by 4:15pm. The train leaves at 4:31pm and doesn't wait for stragglers!
